

European Communication Services (ECS) Launches FAPM TV over Africa

ECS European Communication Services (www.ecs-tv.com) today announced that it has launched Faith Assembly Prophetic Ministry (FAPM) TV on a Direct To Home (DTH) channel throughout Sub-Saharan Africa. Providing bandwidth ground services for the popular and growing Nigeria-based church, ECS is broadcasting FAPM's satellite signal from Europe.

FAPM TV's broadcasts an array of programming to followers throughout all of Sub Saharan Africa. ECS launched the channel on a popular Free To Air platform which is received by a majority of viewers in Nigeria and South Africa and reaches throughout Sub Saharan Africa and into Europe. The channel's purpose is to provide original religious programming and a platform for preaching the church's messages to all mankind. ECS' solution also enables live broadcast directly from FAPM's main church in Nigeria. With an innovative technology solution for the channel, ECS will also make it available 24/7 over the Internet and Mobile devices for viewers worldwide.

"ECS' methodology is based upon knowing and understanding the channel owner's inspirations and being able to supply very specific and precise solutions that fit the client, such as those we are providing FAPM TV," stated ECS CEO, Eran Avni. "FAPM is a fast growing church whose members are located in dozens of locations in Nigeria, Southern Africa and worldwide. The technical solution we chose and deployed here offers an elegant method to reach the church's members and potentially new viewers, by enabling them to explore the channel's content and vision."

Avni continued, "By offering a solution that combines the proper media with the most effective technical elements, we ensure that FAPM's congregants can access the church's messages via whichever method is easiest. We are proud to be able to make this a reality and broaden the church's audience."

ECS works hand-in-hand with its partners to procure the best methods for Faith-based channels and networks to enlarge their viewing audience to every corner of the world. The company offers top solutions for these broadcasters to distribute their messages to the right target audiences.
